To the Editors of the Sunday Dispatch, Gentlemen:-In the article signed "Brickyard," in your paper of yesterday, an attack is made upon the military and political character of General Prevost. Although the writer has been evidently misinformed, as a friend of truth and justice I cannot permit it to pass without correction.

First, in regard to the General's career as a Lidier. Early in 1862 he was appointed by the late General Frank Patterson Assistant Adjutant-General on his staff, and took part in the battles of the Peninsula, Yorktown, Williamsburg, Seven Pines, Peach Orchard, Glendale, and Malvern Hills. Returning in brokets health from the swamps of the Chickshominy, he was invited by the Corn Exchange Association to take command of the 118th Regiment P. V., which was organized under their superintendence. He commanded the Corn Exchange Regimen at Antietam and Shepherdstown. At the latter battle he was severely wounded, but after se eral months' iliness, against the advice of his may con, he returned again to his regiment, and led it at the battle of Chancetlorsville! His wound not permitting him to continue in active service, he was transferred to the Veteran Reserve Corps, and was in command of the depot camp at Harrisburg, after that, of the camp of Rebel prisoners at Elmira, and subsequently of the depot camp at Springfield, Illinois. For gallant conduct on the field he was breveted Brigadier-General.

I append a copy of a letter of that gallant Soldier, Major-General Griffin, United States army, which will satisfy any one in regard to-General Prevost's military record:-

iHearquartess District of Texas. Galveston, Texas, March 27, 1867. Adjutant-General United States Army, Washington, D. C.—General:—I have the honor to recommend for the appointment by brevet, in the volunteer service, for gallant services in the field, Colonel Charles M. Prevost, as Brigadier General. Colonel Prevost was badly wounded whilst bravely leading his regiment at Shepherdstown, Va., 1882, and was compelled to leave the field after the battle of Chancellorsville on account of his wound, Colonel Prevos. Is a gentleman of high worth, was an excellent soldier, taking into the field an excellent regiment, 118th Pennsylvania Volunteers, and he deserves honorable mention by his country.

I am, sir, very respectfully your obedient servant. Signed)

THE FIRE AT THE GOOD INTENT MILLS-LOSS THE FIRE AT THE GOOD INTENT MILLS—Loss $20,000.—The Good Intent Mills are located on the West Chester road, opposite the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Iusane. They consist of one main building and two wings. The mills are owned by James Lord, and occupied by various companies. The west wing, in the second story of which the fire occurred, is occupied by Richard Kershaw, manufacturer of woollen shawls. On Saturday last all hands were discharged early, as is usual on that day, and about 3 o'clock P. M. the clerk closed the mill. About half an hour after some person passing saw flames and smoke issuing from Kershaw's portion of the mill. Gaining the room, it was found that a pile of sbawls, numbering about 2500, and occuping a space 25 feet long, 5 wide and 6 high, were on fire, as was also a large reeling machine. By the use of the apparatus belonging to the mill, the fire was nearly all extinguished before the arrival of the firemen.

But the fiery element clung tenaciously to the beams and rafters of the third floor. All the shawls were destroyed, the reel almost so by fire, and the stock of wool, etc., greatly damaged by water and fire, making a loss which exceeds $20,000. This is partially covered by insurance in New York and Baltimore companies. The building was not damaged serious jully covered in the city companies. not damaged seriously, and is Ever since their esta-bilishment in such close proximity to each other, difficulties have, it is said, been of daily and, we might add, of nightly occurrence. On Saturday night both parties retired to rest. About three o'clock it is averred that Goslin evers to prepare some medicine for a sick shill to prepare some medicine for a sick child, stepping to a window, who should he see bet Baxter, or a vision of that person, standing upon the top of a bulk window peering into his window, and taking a coup d wil of what was going on in the room. Throwing open the shutters Mr. Goslin intimated, in not a tranquil manner, that unless Baxter cleared out or made off immediately he, Goslin, would blow the head off of Baxter with a pistol then and there, not in hand, but near by. Baxter did so. A Swinders.—A very genteel-looking personage, giving the name of Philip Boberson, and representieg himself to be the son of a wealthy Englishman, has been stopping at the Continental Hotel for three days past. He had left what purported to be his bagginge—that is, a trunk with nothing in it—at the American Hotel, Trenton, New Jersey. At the Continental he was requested to make a deposit, but he stated that the clerks insuited him, and he refused to do so, until he saw fit. On Saturday Officer Voorhees, attached to the Continental, accompanied him around the city to dispose of a rib, which he said was worth $300. Upon being examined by a jeweler, it was pronounced to be worth exactly $125. Voorhees then handed Roberson over to Reserve Officer Newman, who took him before Recorder Enea. Newman, who took him before Recorder Enea.

The clerk of the Trenton Hotel appeared against him. He testified that Roberson wanted to sell him the pin for $100, but he wouldn't buy it. The Recorder held him in $900 ball to answer at Court. Upon searching the prisoner, the heavy gold (?) chain which was suspended to his vest button-hole, was found to be fastened to his suspenders. Two very large pocket-books came to light but they very large pocket-books came to light, but they contained nothing in the greenback line, Roberson stated that he had a friend stopping

All kinds of Summer Clothing selling of to close out stock, at very low prices.

WE would advise our patriotic and Unionloving citizens to take advantage of the short time now remaining before the great distribution which takes place next month, to purchase one or more shares of stock at one dollar per share, in the Riverside Institute (located at Beverly, New Jersey), and established for the gratuitous education of soldiers' and sailors' orphans. The small sum required (i. e., one dollar) ploces this duty within the reach of all, and enables them to build one of the noblest monuments that can be erected to the memory of our deceased soldiers and sailors, while at the same time every one who contributes towards the grand work not only receives for a certainty more than the value of his money, but stands his chance with the other stockholders of being awarded some of the most valuable of the presents offered. The fine steel plate engravings given without extra cost with each share of stock purchased, are on exhibition at the principal office, No. 1225 Chesnut street, and are all well worthy of a visit by all lovers of the fine arts, and upon such visit they will certainly agree with us when we state that they are equal in every respect, both in style and finish, to those of this and other cities at 50 per cent, more than is charged by the Washington Library Company. Besides the picture you may select at the time of purchase, every share of stock held will secure one present when the great distribution of presents take place, in September or sooner, if the necessary number of shares are sold.

THE POISONS OF THE DAY .- The late temperance investigations in Massachusetts have thrown a flood of light on the horrible abuses practised in the liquor trade, and have at the same time demonstrated the absolute necessity for unadulterated diffusive stimulants for medicinal purposes. Clergymen of the highest standing, men of the highest rank in science, and philanthropists, who are above the reach of prejudice, have testified not only to the pernicious effects of the adulterated liquors of commerce, but also to the efficacy of uncontaminated alcoholic tonics as remedial and restorative agents.

First on the list of this class of preparations. best known, and most extensively used of all the stomachics of the day, stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This specific is the only representative of that absolutely pure article which eminent divines, chemists, physicians, and social economists in New England have just declared not to be a proper subject for prohibitory legislation. The faculty proclaims by the mouths of its professors that a stimulant of this character is a medical necessity. Hoster-TER'S BITTERS satisfies all the requirements of science. Its alcoholic principle is free from the irritating constituents which analysis detects in even the best imported liquors, and the vegetable extracts with which it is medicated are among the best antidotes and restoratives that botanical science, in its world-wide research, has yet discovered. It is an indubitable fact that some constitutions and habits of body demand stimulation, and for all such a stimulant which combines anti-billous and stightly aperient properties with its tonic virtues is manifestly desirable.

"HOW CAN YE BLOOM SO FRESH AND FAIR?" goes the old Scotch song. How? Why, those who show the bloom of health on their cheeks take Plantation Bitters, which has the power of fortifying the system against disease, and of regulating the digestive apparatus. Are you dyspeptic, weak, void of energy? Have you little or no appetite, headache, continued lassitude and depression of spirits? Take S. T. -1860-X., and bloom and beauty will return. The Bitters have become a household friend.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Brew

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Brewster.—Christian Kneass, Esq., Prosecuting Attorney.—Business was transacted to-day in the new court-room. The alterations that have been going on, and are now approaching completion, will, it is thought, be great improvements. The witness stand has been removed to the west end of the jury nex, and the jurors chairs are placed much nearer to the bar than they formerly were—"so near," remarked a facetious member this morning, "that we lawyers can, with the greatest ease, stand in our usual place and shake our fist under the jury's nose."

A sounding bourd has been placed above the Judge's beach, which arrests the sounds of one's voice and throws it into the room. With proper accusation at rangements, this court-room will prove all that could be wished for the criminal business of the city. Prison cases are still before the Court.

Eliza E Dix was charged with assault and battery upon Mary Ware. Mary Ware a little girl twoive years old, testified that last Saturday she was in a room where an old gentleman was lying sick, and the deiendant, a middle-aged woman, came up and struck her. She said she would tell her father, who is a policeman, and the detendant then rudely pushed her out into the street. The defendant said something about her father, Policeman Ware, being before the Mayor upon a charge of making causeless arrests in the neighborhood, and this was reported to the policeman, and he then immediately took out a warrant for the defendant's arrest.

Mayor upon a charge of making causeless arrests in the neighborhood, and this was reported to the policeman, and he then immediately took out a warrant for the defendant's arrest.

The defendant's arrest.

The defense produced a number of witnesses, who testified that this little girl and some others were cetting a disturbance in the room where the old gentleman was lying on the point of death, and that Mrs. Dix only ordered them out. A good character was also established.

Gustavus Remak said to the jury, that where a lady, through charity, ordered a lot of troublesome children from a cless room, in which an old gentleman was dying, her act should meet with the approval of all good men—and not be construed it to an offense against the law, an assault and battery. Verdict not guilty.

Mary Haggerty was charged with the larceny of a vest pattern, valued at $2. belonging to Aldema Monger. Mr. Menger testified that this woman entered his tailor shop, and begged for rags, representing nerself to be very poor; he gave ner some rags hat were lying on the fibor. When she had gone he missed a vest pattern that was hanging on the walf, and had her arrested. The pattern was found upon her person. Verdict guilty.

John McPherson was convicted of a charge of the son. Verdict guilty.

John McPherson was convicted of a charge of the larceny of a shirt belonging to Joshua Balding. He stole the shirt one Sunday morning from Mr. Bald-larceny of a shirt belonging to Joshua Baiding. He stole the shirt one Sunday morning from Mr. Baiding's yerd.

John Vanhorn was acquitted of a charge of the larceny of muslin, valued at $1:30, belonging to Anna Berry. The evidence was that someody who is not known stole the muslin, and a pawnbroker's ticket for rome other articles that had been stolen was traced to the defendant.

Philip Baker was charged with assault and battery upon August Schaefler. Mr. Schaefler teatified that on the 2d of July the defendant, a young man, came to the door of his room, where he, his wife, and another woman were working, and called him to the door, saving he had a pistol ready. Mr. Schaefler said nothing, but merely went towards his door; the defendant threw something that atruck him on the chin, inflicting a deep cut. As soon as he had done this, the defendant turned and ran away.

The defense alleged that the defendant did not strike Mr. Schaefler, and that this whole story was faoricated only to gratify spite. On triat.

The defense alleged that the defendant did not strike Mr. Schneffe, and that this whole story was faoricated only to gratify spite. On trial.
